The Writing Center: Menu of Support Services for Faculty

• Visiting classes to speak about the Writing Center

• Sharing instructor-generated assignment sheets and grading rubrics with our tutors to better educate them on course requirements and standards

• Assisting instructors and TAs with creation of assignments and rubrics

• Meeting with instructors and TAs to discuss ways to streamline paper grading workload

• Creating worksheets, either for use in classes or for our tutors to use with students, that give concrete strategies to students on how to effectively approach course-specific writing assignments

• Developing assignment- or skill-specific workshops/activities for students to help them get started and/or develop their writing projects, to be facilitated either by Writing Center staff or the instructors themselves

For more information, please contact Chris Hamel, Writing Specialist at the THINK TANK, at chamel@email.arizona.edu or (520) 626-1952

The Writing Center: Menu of Support Services for Faculty

• Visiting classes to speak about the Writing Center

• Sharing instructor-generated assignment sheets and grading rubrics with our tutors to better educate them on course requirements and standards

• Assisting instructors and TAs with creation of assignments and rubrics

• Meeting with instructors and TAs to discuss ways to streamline paper grading workload

• Creating worksheets, either for use in classes or for our tutors to use with students, that give concrete strategies to students on how to effectively approach course-specific writing assignments

• Developing assignment- or skill-specific workshops/activities for students to help them get started and/or develop their writing projects, to be facilitated either by Writing Center staff or the instructors themselves

For more information, please contact Chris Hamel, Writing Specialist at the THINK TANK, at chamel@email.arizona.edu or (520) 626-1952